Welch, Francis X.: In the nation's capital: Welch, in spite of Nov. 2 experience, makes 10 predictions of things to come in 1949; Batted 75% in 1948, Jan. 1, p. 19. . . . Suggests commissions take realistic view of the financial needs of telephone companies in considering rate increases, Jan. 8, p. 17. . . . FCC studies Bell's objections to connecting its television system to private systems for nationwide telecasts; Truman's "Fair Deal" analyzed; Tax, rural telephone and minimum wage bills introduced in Congress, Jan. 15, p. 17. . . . Possibilities of repealing Taft-Hartley Act discussed; Effect of prolabor statute on number of strikes reviewed; FCC's annual report reveals unprecedented expansion of communications media; Bill would cut operators' wage exemptions, Jan. 29, p. 13.
Administration trying to "stampede" pet bills through Congress with minimum hearing time; Bills to amend Taft-Hartley and minimum wage laws subject to such procedure; FCC prescribes depreciation rates for the Michigan Bell Telepnone Co., Feb. 5, p. 21. . . . Big push to enact rural telephone legislation expected to kick off this month, Feb. 12, p. 20. . . . In view of Justice Department's suit to divorce Western Electric from AT&T, Welch questions REA's proposed plan to buy cable from one source; Emphasizes Great Britain's sad experience with government ownership of utilities; Stresses labor's loss of bargaining rights under government ownership, Feb. 19, p. 13. . . . House committee hearings on Poage Bill—authorizing REA to finance rural telephone service expansion—end; Telephone industry representatives testify, Feb. 26, p. 13.
House sub-committee reports out Poage Bill with amendments improving legislation from industry's standpoint; USITA draws up suggested bill providing RFC financing; New Hampshire Supreme Court overrules commission's rate case order which does not establish rate base, Mar. 5, p. 17. . . . Welch's previous prediction that honeymoon between President and Congress might be over by April appears to be coming true; Traces progress of Wage-Hour and Poage Bills, Mar 12, p. 17. . . . House committee to report out Wage-Hour Bill with 500-station exchange exemption; Committee report on Poage Bill reviewed; Hoover commission gives o.k. to independent regulatory agencies such as the FCC, Mar 19, p. 13. . . . Senate and House Bills regarding rural telephone financing discussed; Welch questions idea that all farmers desire telephone service; Status of Bell System rate cases in the states presented, Mar. 26, p. 17.
REA lobbyists' statements on rural telephone service in connection with Poage Bill, seem to make the farmer the All-American chump; Poage takes opposite stands on federal government financed utility services, Apr. 2, p. 17. . . . Supreme Court to review New York wire tapping law; Slackening of prices indicates similar trend in telephone rate applications reaching "request peak;" REA receives a half billion in new lending authority, Apr. 16, p. 11. . . . District of Columbia Commission to hold hearing on legality of FCC tariffs covering discontinuance of telephone service when law enforcement agencies advise they are being used unlawfully; Massachusetts disallows advertising and contributions as operating expenses in Bell rate case, Apr. 23, p. 27. . . . Study reveals that REA "cheap financing" is actually costing general taxpayer 4.85 per cent, figuring in administrative expense of REA; Computing taxes that would be paid by private companies, but not paid by cooperatives, overall-cost of REA financing to taxpayer is probably around 5½ per cent, Apr. 30, p. 15.
Senate Labor and Welfare Committee gets full story from USITA witness of how proposed minimum wage amendment would affect small telephone companies; Emphasizes need for continuation of 500 station (or higher) exchange exemption, May 7, p. 13. . . . Three commissioners advocate more mobile radio frequencies for common carriers in dissenting opinions on new FCC order; Poage Bill faces defeat as result of political rebellion in Congress, May 14, p. 13. . . . Welch answers points on rural telephone bills raised by NRECA's Clyde T. Ellis in his letter to Independent companies; Urges telephone men to write Ellis asking why he is opposed to amendments to bills to protect existing companies, May 21, p. 14. . . . Another court (Vermont) upholds "Two Rivers" doctrine; FCC publishes comparative telephone rates in large cities, May 28, p. 17.
Poage and Hill bills slipping; no longer considered as "must" legislation; FCC rules on Southern Bell depreciation; Possibility of another FCC-Bell probe, Chairman Coy hints, June 4, p. 15. . . . Horticulturist Welch misses sale of "stinking" geraniums to Bell scientists who are conducting "Bell on Wheels," the system's traveling show, but he still has hopes they will discover ways to use the flowers in developing telephone apparatus, June 11, p. 16. . . . Welch answers Senator Hill's recent statement "plugging" his bill to provide government financing (through REA) for rural telephone expansion; Observes 17 errors, misstatements, or misleading innuendoes in the senator's discussion, June 18, p. 13. . . . Senate hearing on Hill Bill indicates that its supporters are more interested in co-operatives than in extending government financial assistance to existing private telephone companies; Original wage-hour amendment has rough time; Hoover Commission report cutting telephone excise tax suppressed; People getting wise to socialistic trend, June 25, p. 16.
